

Matt Obermeier

SENIOR MORTGAGE BANKER

Matt Obermeier entered the mortgage business in 1999 and has studied almost every aspect of the industry. From calculating loan estimates, processing, post-closing and now originating, Matt has truly worked his way from the ground up. The knowledge Matt gained over the past 18 years shines through while he is assisting his clients and guiding them into the products that make sense for them.

Matt believes that nobody should have to make the biggest financial decision of their life without the guidance of someone who cares. He really enjoys educating his clients throughout the loan process to ensure that they are comfortable and understand all the options available to them. In addition to standard purchase and refinance transactions, Matt can offer creative solutions to debt reduction and reconsolidation. He is able to assist his clients in creating a roadmap to best utilize their mortgage as a financial tool in the future.

Matt prefers face to face meetings to guarantee that the loan is going in the right direction from the beginning. His business is entirely referral based so ensuring that every one of his clients is happy is always his number one priority.

When he's not working Matt enjoys spending time with his 3 kids and wife, Christina. A St. Louis native, Matt is an avid Cardinals fan and loves exploring the diverse restaurants our great city has to offer.

After spending some time working for a larger lender, Matt is happy to be working with F&B Financial Group. Between the in-house underwriting and direct funding, Matt greatly values the flexibility that F&B affords him and his clients. If you are wondering what your purchase or refinance options may be, give him a call today!
